C. O. D. E. S. TO HOLD ITS ANNUAL BANQUET TONIGHT

Art Students Contribute Clever Place Cards That Will Be Treasured as Souvenirs—Domestic Science Department Is Preparing a Sumptuous Feast

The annual C. O. D. E. S. banquet which honors students who have made a record in the special activities of Glendale Union high school, comes off tonight in the cafeteria and it is to be a smart affair with fragrant red roses gracing the board and the silver cups which the school has won, in places of honor, while around about will be hung the banners and pennants that are symbols of victory. Tom McNary, Carroll Parcher and Philip Begue are the committee in charge, and the beginners' class of the domestic science department, under the direction of Miss Ellen J. Hanson, will assist in the preparation of the menu.

Of course, there will be place cards of original design which will suggest the activities that have inspired the banquet, and for these, William Justema, Ralph Van Hoorebeke and Chester Vosbrink have undertaken to be responsible. They will bear the mystic letters "C. O. D. E. S.," and for the information of those unacquainted with the cabalism of the high school, it should be explained that these letters stand for Cabinet, Oratorical, Debates, Explosion and Stylus, and for the special representatives of these activities, together with a few members of the faculty and other guests, covers will be laid to the number of about fifty.

Help It Along

I am greater than all the gold and all the precious Jewels—the world's business cannot run without me.

I am the basis upon which your business and social life is built—more so than ever before.

I can give you the means to become rich if you obey my commandments and treat me fairly.—my moderate but rigid.

I can ostracise you in the smallest as well as the largest environment—when your fellow man will not barter with you except on a "cash down" or "show me" basis.—nor will they have faith in what you tell them.

I am the biggest asset in the world today. I am a power in every industry. Every phase of social and commercial intercourse commands my services.—they need me always and I am ready.

For I am a credit, the friend and helper of all men and all businesses. I am meat and drink and wealth if you use me rightly.

Then boost for a Glendale Merchants' Credit Association and help Glendale to become a bigger and more prosperous city.

REIGN OF TERROR IN TULSA IS SUBSIDING

Business Is Again Resumed, Though State Troops Are Patroling Streets of City—"Little Africa," Most Concentrated and Wealthy Negro Settlement in Southwest, Is a Heap of Ruins and Can Never Be Restored—More Than Three Thousand Negroes Being Fed by Red Cross

(By International News Service)

TULSA, Okla., June 2.—Business was resumed as usual in Tulsa today, following a night of quiet. The militia still paced the streets and martial law continued in effect, but there was no disorder and stores and business places which were barred and bolted shut yesterday were opened and people appeared upon the streets as though Tulsa's "day of terror" had never happened.

There were no sporadic outbreaks of the race riot which had raged unchecked during the morning hours of yesterday and which was only put down by the arrival of the national guard from outside cities.

State troops, acting under the direction of Adjutant General Charles F. Barrett, patrolled the entire city during the night. Pedestrians without passes and motor cars except official vehicles, were barred from the streets between 7 o'clock last night and 6 o'clock this morning. All street car service was discontinued through the night.

Theaters and places of amusement were closed early, as were a majority of drug stores, soda fountains and cafes.

A check up this morning showed 10 white men to be dead and 6 of 35 wounded in hospitals to be in a critical condition. The bodies of 15 negroes were held in various morgues. Other bodies were brought to the morgues this morning from the ruins of the "black belt" where they had lain untouched since yesterday forenoon. Over 70 wounded negroes are reported in hospitals today and more than 20 were not expected to live for 24 hours.

The cordon of troops thrown around the desolate region which was once "Little Africa," perhaps the most concentrated and wealthy negro settlement in the southwest before it was levelled to the ground Wednesday morning by fire started by the white invaders, continued to do picket duty today.

The district was a heap of blackened ruins, into which none except soldiers and police were permitted. The district can never be restored. It will have to be entirely reconstructed.

Adjutant General Barrett today considered the advisability of pitching semi-permanent tents in the negro dis-

PRESBYTERIANS ADD FIFTY FEET TO THEIR BUILDING SITE

Style of Architecture Not Yet Decided Upon, But It Is Thought That It Will Follow Gothic Lines—Sunday School Rooms Will Receive Attention

Several evenings ago the joint boards of the Glendale Presbyterian church met together and canvassed the new building situation. As a result of the conference they authorized the trustees to purchase an additional 50 feet on the west of the church site on the northwest corner of Harvard and Louise streets. The additional 50 feet was purchased from Mrs. Grace Harrison and will carry the property line to the alley on the west, giving the church a block 150 by 150. This extra purchase was made necessary by the enlarged program which the church is expecting to carry out. The committee is now busy studying blue prints and endeavoring to formulate its general plans.

While the style of architecture has not been decided, the sentiment of the church appears to be for something that will be unmistakably churchly, and it is believed therefore that it will follow gothic lines with tower and steeple.

After the auditorium interest centers in the Sunday school quarters which will be very up to date in their provisions for religious education and all that the word means in the best interpretation of the term. It will provide a place and equipment for all the departments of the Sunday school.

LA RAMADA BANQUET TODAY MARKS THE D. A. R. CLOSING MEETING

A banquet at noon today at La Ramada marked the closing meeting of the Richard Gridley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at which the officers, unanimously elected, will be installed by the local regent. These officers are: Mrs. Mary H. Braly, regent; Mrs. C. W. Houston, vice-regent; Mrs. S. C. Leppelman, treasurer; Mrs. Mabel Ocker, corresponding and chapter secretary; Mrs. Gertrude Follansbee, chaplain; Mrs. Butterfield, historian; Mrs. T. W. Preston, hospitality chairman; Miss Ida Myers, educational chairman; Mrs. T. W. Addison, chairman for the Mile of Pennies.

This organization has been the good friend of the Maternity hospital in Los Angeles and is contributing to that charity, $250, of which $100 will be given today. It is also giving a substantial donation to the Monte Vista Welfare Home for undernourished children.

Mrs. T. W. Preston acted as toastmistress and Mrs. Braly, the regent, made her annual and always inspiring address, which was followed by other toasts and entertaining numbers.

New Arrival

A lovely little daughter was born on Tuesday, May 31, to Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Matthiesen of 825 South Adams street, at the Glendale sanitarium. Grace Elaine is the name bestowed upon the new arrival. Mother and baby are getting along nicely.

TWO CITIES TAXED TO PROVIDE SETTING FOR WEIRD RITES

The 13 new members of the "Slicker Club," composed of G. U. H. S. seniors who are soon to be graduated, were initiated last night by the retiring officers and members, including Arthur Campbell, Philip Begue, Carroll Parcher, James Stewart, Harry Merriken, Jimmy Hill, David Folz Bernard Dennison, Dean Culberson, Warren Meeker, Bob White, Tom McNary and William Farmer.

The new "Slickers" enrolled are: Paul Hutchinson, Waldo Yard, Paul Holland, Bill Gibson, Bill Goertz Philip Henderson, Maynard Toll, John Richardson, Sam Thompson, Wilfred Cline, Bob McCourt, Fred Terzo and Victor Colburn. On their stalwart shoulders will rest the responsibility of carrying on the great works and high endeavors of the Slickers of last year, and that they might realize their responsibilities their initiation which took place Wednesday night was elaborate and lengthy. First they were taken to a station in front of the Palace Grand theater where they stood for a time under raised umbrellas, the targets for all eyes. They were then commanded to remove their shoes and stockings, which they did, also obeying instructions to march to Broadway where they sung a hymn about walking the streets of glory. Still obeying orders they boarded a street car going east, but all their money having been taken from them, they were expelled from the car when the conductor found himself unable to collect fare.

The whole company of Slickers, old and new, was then transported by auto to the home of Jimmie Stewart in Eagle Rock, where their shoes were restored and in a lonely barn the weird ceremonies of initiation were completed.

Mrs. Stewart had been busy meanwhile and invited the 26 to have refreshments before returning to Glendale. As a parting tribute to Eagle Rock, calculated to wake up the town of their host, the boys rounded up the night patrol and asked him whether he liked sardines for breakfast. They also tried to purchase a pound of nails from the drug store and to borrow cigarets from late pedestrians.

The departing Slickers speak highly of the initiates and seem confident they will carry on the traditions of their predecessors.

LEGION BAND IS CREDIT TO CITY

After weeks of rehearsing, the Legion band, under the leadership of Raymond D. Crawford, in their Decoration day parade and concert, proved that it is one of the best amateur bands in Southern California. This leaves the question up to the citizens of Glendale as to whether or not they want a band. This is one of the fastest growing cities in the world and the only place of importance in the Southland that does not have some form of public entertainment. The band is here and the music lovers are here, then why not make the life of Glendale more lively with music?

Support our Legion band.

THRIFT ENCOURAGED BY LOAN SOCIETY AMONG LOCAL PEOPLE

Thrift is a virtue that is being more talked about and thought about in America today than ever before, and rightly so.

The practise of thrift and systematic saving should be encouraged; it must become a national characteristic if our land is to become truly and solidly prosperous. Thrift is a word of broader meaning than saving. It denotes a higher and more intelligent use of accumulations than merely saving them. A saving person might justify the name by merely hiding his savings away where they would earn nothing for him and be of no use to anyone else. A thrifty person will make such use of his savings that they will at the same time earn profits for him and be useful to others.

The practise of systematic saving should be especially urged upon the young. The self-denial involved in the practise of this habit and the feeling of independence that grows out of a realization of the protection against misfortune that savings afford tend to strengthen their characters, by giving them greater self-respect.

The Southern California-Metropolitan Loan Association (the oldest building loan association in Los Angeles county), which has recently opened a branch office on West Broadway, offers ideal facilities for the practise of thrift. The purchaser of their investment certificates benefits himself directly by an exceptionally safe and profitable investment, with its tax exemption and guaranteed dividend features; he benefits himself indirectly through the retroactive law of circulating capital; for the funds secured through the placing of these investment certificates are put to work building homes, giving employment to the lumberman, painter, plumber, manufacturer, decorator, contractor, architect, laborer and others; in turn, an established home makes business for the furniture dealer, produce market, the grocery, the book store, art store and others.

Thus the wheels revolve, bringing back many returns to the citizen investing in the certificates offered by the Southern California-Metropolitan Loan Association.

PLANS UNDER WAY FOR COUNTY FAIR

Plans for the San Fernando valley annual county fair to be held in September, are already under way.

A dinner at which representatives from chambers of commerce and other civic bodies will meet to discuss plans for this fair will be held on June 9.

Harold Lloyd is said to be known in England as "Winkle, the Pathe Mirth Merchant."

CHARLES J. KEENAN MAKES SPLENDID FORUM SPEECH

Speaker of Day Calls for Volunteers in Combating the Red Menace That Threatens American Institutions and the Stars and Stripes

A small representation of the chamber of commerce which did not include any of the officers although a few directors were present, enjoyed the excellent dinner provided for the mid-day Forum held at the Masonic Temple today and the speeches that followed it.

The first to address the gathering was Mrs. Mattison B. Jones who made a strong plea for music as an educational and unifying element in our civic life. She made it concrete by appealing for the support of the Glendale Music Club and for its indorsement by the chamber. On motion of Mr. Kulp the chamber not only voted the indorsement but pledged itself to aid and cooperate with the Music Club in any and every way possible.

Mr. Ellis had been appointed chairman of the meeting in the absence of President Cooper. In a brief introductory speech in which he referred to his own observance of the unrest with which Europe is seething since the war, and the reflex effect upon our own country, he introduced the speaker of the day, Charles J. Keenan, who, as the representative of the Soldiers and Sailors' Employment Bureau of the American Legion forcefully set forth the traitorous elements in this country, that are working on an open and avowed program for the overthrow of the government of the United States. He prefaced his speech with some figures in regard to the foreign and otherwise unassimilated portions of our population and showed how great is the need that every American and particularly every employer of labor should combat this menace to American institutions and the American flag. A synopsis of Mr. Keenan's fine, earnest talk will be published in another issue.

The chamber of commerce booklets as prepared and published by Secretary Rhoades were distributed and indorsed by the chairman with a word of commendation.

That the community sing, urged by Roy Kent at the last meeting, might be carried out, Secretary Rhoades provided every guest with a little pamphlet containing the words of patriotic and popular songs. Mrs. Geiger was asked to preside at the piano and Mr. Chappell led the company in singing "America" and "Dixie Land." Mrs. Geiger also played "Valse Caprice," by Robert Newell, an American composer.

GIRLS HAVE RALLY ON TUESDAY NIGHT

The girls' rally at the Baptist church under the leadership of Miss Maude Soper, Tuesday evening, was a great success although the attendance was not as large as at the previous gathering. The girls are studying the Book of Mark. Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts was present and led the singing. A letter was read from Mrs. Neth in which she sent her love to all the girls and promised to visit them once a month after her return to Hollywood. The supper for the gathering next Tuesday night will be furnished by the ladies of the Central Avenue Methodist church.

CLASS PLAY WILL BE GIVEN BY SENIORS

Tickets are now on sale for "Mary's Millions," the class play to be given by the seniors of Glendale high school.

Dress rehearsals have begun and the cast is busy rehearsing every evening. "Mary's Millions" is an interesting play, with an absorbing plot, and the talented cast includes Arthur Campbell, Millicent Alvord, Brigham Bennett, Myra Johns, Tom McNary, Edith Haggman, Wilbur Johns, Marguerite Mandaville, Stanley Walker and Louise Wimmer.

STAR CAST IN PLAY AT PALACE GRAND

There will be no motion picture show at the Palace Grand today or tomorrow, the Elks' benefit, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," being the attraction there instead.

The all-star cast of Glendale artists and the well executed plans of their director, W. M. Chapman, insure to theatregoers a rare treat.

Tickets for the two performances are going rapidly, but there are still some good seats to be had.

PLANS OUTLINED FOR VACATION SCHOOL

Details of the plan for the community Vacation Bible school to be conducted in this city from July 5 to July 29, were outlined at a meeting of the committee in charge, at the First Methodist church last evening.

Sessions will be held in various localities to suit the convenience of the pupils of the school. About twenty teachers will be engaged in the work, which will be given in three departments—beginners, primary and juniors.

Carl C. Seitter, director of religious education in the First Methodist church, will act as superintendent of the work, and each school will have a principal in charge.

CONGREGATIONALIST CHURCH PEOPLE PREPARE FOR BUILDING

At the meeting of members of the Congregational church, Wednesday night, following the prayer service, the church voted to adopt the plan recommended by the Church building committee, of which Blake Franklin is chairman, in the raising of funds. This plan proposed to divide the work of soliciting subscriptions among 20 teams, each headed by a captain, who would be expected to secure $3000 each, thus securing the $60,000 the church is to cost. A picture of the proposed building was exhibited and if that design is carried out, it will be a very beautiful edifice.

A big dinner is to be given at the church next Thursday night at which the plan will be elaborated and the personel of the teams announced. Glendale members of the Church Extension committee will be guests at the dinner.

FIRST ALUMNI DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

The first Alumni day held by former students of the Glendale Union high school for several years will be celebrated tomorrow. A ball game and tennis match between alumni teams and senior high teams will be the features of the afternoon.

At 7:30, an assembly will be held in the auditorium; a good program has been planned, with Mrs. Dorothy Lee Weller in charge of the musical numbers. A short business meeting will follow.

This will be followed by a dance in the gymnasium, at which the seniors will be guests of the alumni. All former students of the high school are also invited, whether members of the Alumni association or not. The lack of room precludes the inviting of other guests.

Mrs. Sydney M. Simon, vice-president, Jane Snyder, secretary, and F. Balthis, treasurer, and other members also, have been working hard to insure the success of the affair. Ed Seay is president of the organization.

A meeting was held last evening at the home of Mrs. Simon, 633 North Brand boulevard, at which final arrangements were perfected.

LAW SECTION GUESTS OF MRS. C. A. REDMOND

The parliamentary law section of the Tuesday Afternoon Club met at the home of Mrs. C. A. Redmond, 331 West Harvard street, Mrs. Harry Greenwalt, curator, presiding.

The greater part of the afternoon was devoted to work on resolutions. Mrs. Greenwalt was unanimously re-elected curator of the section and a rising vote of thanks was given her for the work done during the past year.

Two especially enjoyable features of the afternoon were the instrumental pieces played by Katherine and Margaret Helen Dotson. Katherine played "Fantasie in D Minor" by Mozart and Margaret the "Merry Bobolink" by Krogman.

CHAUTAUQUA FOLKS ARE LEAVING FOR THEIR SUMMER WORK

H. V. Adams of 436 West California street, is leaving Friday for Des Moines, Ia., where he will begin his summer work on the Midland Chautauqua circuit as a lecturer on "Popular Psychology." He will be accompanied by Mrs. Adams and will be gone until September. Mr. Adams was formerly on the staff of the Ellison-White company and expects to return to that organization after he completes his contract with the other bureau. He will spend next winter in Glendale.

His daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Bartlett, who formerly lived in Glendale, started Wednesday to make the overland trip to Des Moines in a Ford sedan. From Des Moines they will go to Indianapolis. They will picnic by the way and will return in the fall when Mr. and Mrs. Adams are due here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells of Burchett street, who are also Chautauqua entertainers, are likewise on the road. Mr. Wells is a celebrated player of the saxophone and has a very beautiful collection of gold-plated instruments which were made especially for him by a Philadelphia instrument maker. They were exhibited in a Glendale store a few months ago.

PICNIC PLANNED BY READING SOCIETY

The Mutual Benefit Reading society held a very interesting meeting with guests from Pasadena present—Mrs. A. B. Anderson, recording secretary of the first district; Mrs. J. R. Dalton, Mrs. M. Shuts, Mrs. T. I. Lind and Mrs. G. M. Bartlett.

Mrs. Barton presided, there being about forty-five in attendance. The regular review was dispensed with so that the book, "Growing Up," which Mrs. C. H. Crawford reads, could be finished before the close of the year's meetings.

The plans for a picnic were completed and it was decided that the ladies need not dress in patriotic costume but that appropriate decorations would be gven them at the picnic grounds at La Ramada.

Mrs. Eustace B. Moore of South Maryland avenue attended the graduation exercises of the Pasadena university Wednesday and reports a very fine program.

BANQUET AT HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

One of the important events of the High School year is the banquet tonight in the cafeteria, at which the cabinet, members of the oratorical and debating classes and Explosion and Stylus staffs will meet to discuss the happenings of the school year and to plan for the next year's activities.

Decorations of red and black in new and unique designs will grace the banquet hall, and the toastmaster for the evening is Carrol Parcher, former president of the student body.

It is probable that a company of 84 representative members of the various departments named above will attend the banquet.

GLENDALE SEVENTH CALIFORNIA CITY FOR BUILDING IN APRIL

A country-wide survey of building operations reveals great activity in most of the large cities of the country. New York city led with its usual $29,000,000; Chicago, despite persistent reports that practically all building was suspended on account of labor troubles, was second with more than $15,000,000; Cleveland was third with $8,470,525; Baltimore fourth with $8,305,200, and Los Angeles dropped from second place in March to fifth, with an increased total, however, of $7,250,571. San Francisco was 12th, with $1,913,592, dropping behind Portland, Ore.

Of coast cities Glendale was ninth and of California cities, seventh. She was exceeded by Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Long Beach, Oakland and Venice, all but the latter many times her size. Venice led Glendale for the first time on account of the new pier to replace the one burned.

May reports will show considerable shifting in positions of the various cities of the country and Glendale may show a much higher proportionate rating.

CONCERT BY HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The High School orchestra gave a concert today in the auditorium from 11:15 to 11:45 in recognition of Music Week. Guests of the occasion were pupils of the various grammar schools.

Tomorrow the Boys' Glee Club of the High School will give a program at the Intermediate School, to which anyone who is interested is invited, and on Saturday the juvenile section of the Glendale Music Club will offer as their contribution to Music Week a program at half-past two Saturday afternoon at the Intermediate School, to which they have invited their parents and teachers and friends.

CORPSE CARRIED FOR SHOW PURPOSES

(By International News Service)

SYCAMORE, Ill., June 2.—For rent: A much dead "corpse," guaranteed not to walk in the night or otherwise annoy its owner.

This is the ultimatum of Marian French, a penmanship teacher and owner of the "corpse." The "body," by the way, recently was alive enough to keep police in eight Indiana and Illinois towns on the jump for twenty-four hours. Even the Chicago police "fell" for the "corpse" although the latter was partly victimized by some active students from a journalism school who had a sense of humor.

The "corpse," now stored in a station here, first came to the attention of the students at the Sycamore station. Trainmen, suspecting the box which contained it to be a bootlegger's storeroom (the box weighed 480 pounds), opened it. They found the corpse of a man, dead eighty years, and in a petrified state.

When the journalistic students noticed the "find" they immediately scattered reports of a brutal trunk murder in which a woman was cast as the victim. She was stabbed in a dozen places, said their sensational reports.

Police "snapped into it" and ran down clues. The Sycamore police finally denied the murder story and announced the corpse was that of a man, dead at least eighty years. Its owner, French, was finally located.

He explained that he had been carrying the body around for exhibition purposes. He called it a "real American mummy."

"I bought it from South Dakota cowboys in 1881 as a bona fide petrified man," he said. It's caused me lots of trouble, so I'm going to rent it out for exhibition purposes," he added. "No, I don't want to sell it."

Enthusiastic About Glendale

One of the enthusiastic Glendale fans is Mr. Person, who is the head of a big factory in Philadelphia which manufactures about seven kinds of lubricating oils for automobiles. He came to our city with his wife and family and purchased the ten-acre estate owned by Dr. Black in Casa Verdugo, a ranch to which his son is devoting his time and energies. Mr. Person also has a factory in Canada.

CHURCH UNITY; PAUL AND CHRIST

By REV. A. B. SMART

In Hebrews 6:1,2, is a most remarkable scripture. The apostle plainly points out the grounds of divisions among Christians, into parties, sects and denominations, just as they are now, displacing the main duty, Christian living and true gospel experience, by the divisions and constant contentions that naturally arise from them.

Evidently this is not what was intended by either Paul or Christ.

In First Corinthians' 1:10,11, Paul says, "' beseech you brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind, and in the same judgment. For it hath come to me, my brethren, that there are contentions among you.

Now I mean this, that each one of you says: I am of Paul; and I am of Apollos; and I of Cephas; and I of Christ." "Is Christ divided?" Similarly, in John 17:17,25. Christ prays thus: "Father! Sanctify them through thy truth. Thy word is the Truth." As thou hast, sent me into the world, so have I also sent them into the world to save it." And for their sakes, I sanctify myself that they may be sanctified wholly through thy truth. Neither pray I for these alone, but also for those who shall trust in Me, through their word. That they all may be one, as Thou art in me, and I in Thee, that they also may be one in us, that the world may believe that Thou hast sent me. And the glory that Thou gavest me I have given them, that they may be one, even as we are. I in them and Thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, even as we are, and that the world may know that Thou has sent me, and hast loved them as Thou has loved me."

Then in Hebrews, 6:1,2. Paul says. "Therefore leaving the principles of the doctrine of Christ, let us go on unto perfection; not laying again the foundation of repentance from dead works, and of faith toward God. Of the doctrine of baptisms and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead and of eternal judgment."

Of course, while divided and contending about such senseless things, we have no time and no disposition to be carried on to "Perfection in Love," which is The Gospel Salvation, as God provides and commands. So we live and die without it, and never have "the law" fulfilled in us or by us, as purposed by God before and in the Foundation of the Cosmos. Eph. 1:4.

God help us to repent of this constant sinning and get saved fully!

"For if they escaped not, who refused him—Moses—that spoke on earth, much more shall not we escape who now reject Jesus Christ—who speaks from Heaven, in His word and by His Spirit."

"Without holiness shall no man see God." "God shall judge His people" and it is a fearful thing, to fall into the hands of the Living God." So take heed and beware!

SWIMMING POOL PETITION STILL OUT

Officials at the city hall report that the petition for a bond issue to provide a swimming pool and pay the indebtedness on Kenilworth park, is still circulating and will not be presented to the board of trustees until Thursday night, when it is expected enough signatures will have been obtained to justfy the board in ordering it placed upon the ballot. The proposed issue would provide $17,000 for a swimming pool similar to the one first built at Brookside park, and pay the $5000 due on Kenilworth park.

Daily Press Classified Ads will solve most problems at small cost.

NEW SUBDIVISION OPENING ON WEST

A new subdivision is being opened by W.H. Armstrong of 104 North Central avenue, for a syndicate for which he is acting as manager. It is just north of Laurel street between the city limits of Glendale and Burbank. Twenty acres fronting on San Fernando road and running back to the Pacific Electric have been platted and sales will probably begin about the middle of June as soon as the improvements start. The San Fernando road lots are 25 feet wide and run back for 125 feet to a 15-foot alley. On the other frontages the lots run 100x160 and will be used for residence purposes. The syndicate expects to put in gas, electricity, water, sidewalks, etc., and to make its property in all respects a high-class subdivision.

It is in the industrial district between the Moreland Truck and Compression Inner Tube factories and is therefore advantageously placed from the viewpoint of value to the investor. There will be reasonable building restrictions imposed to prevent a class of buildings being erected that would depreciate the property.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY FACTS

The following catalogue of facts concerning the financial status, aims and standing of the Children's Home Society, for whom a red heart tag sale is to be held in this city in the near future, should be of interest to all who desire information about this worthy philanthropy:

Name—Children's Home Society, operating continuously under state charter granted in December, 1891.

Directors—See letterhead.

Results—Up to date 3788 children have been placed, and 90 per cent have made good; 387 in addition to the above number are under supervision, and adoption will foHow. We have relieved the county of Los Angeles from the care of over 1700 orphans since we began our work, and statistics show that the average yearly cost to states is $200 per child and the average period for orphans is about 10 years. Thus the average cost before a child becomes self-sustaining is about $2000; so our society has relieved the county of over two and a half million dollars expense, and besides this our children are prospective heirs of a very much larger sum, which would not be the case had they been brought up in institutions; 300 children were placed last year.

Endorsed by state board of charities and corrections, Los Angeles Social Service Commission, Chamber of Commerce, church federations, and by 30 or 40 other religious and civic organizations.

Financial standing—Los Angeles home and office, unencumbered, $35,000; Oakland home and office, unencumbered, $22,000; trust fund held as permanent endowment, $156,000.

Sources of income—Interest on trust funds and public charity.

Cost—"Work necessarily expensive," says the state board, "because of labor involved in finding homes, doing the follow-up supervision, medical care, keeping of records," etc.

Inspection invited of the home, our methods, our books.

The Advertising Club of Los Angeles and the Commercial Board have lately equipped for us a receiving cottage, after examining our work, and make this statement: "We are impressed with the wonderful work you are doing for the children and the immense relief from the charity burden it affords to the county and state."

TRIP BY DOMESTIC SCIENCE STUDENTS

Go Through All Departments of California Furniture Co. and Davis Bakery

Members of the advanced class of the domestic science department of Glendale Union high school went to Los Angeles Friday with their instructor, Miss Ellen Hanson, and made a tour of the departments of the California Furniture company, spending about two hours in the inspection. Ther guide showed them fine examples of the different woods used in the manufacture of furniture and told them how they could learn to recognize good furniture and differentiate it from the cheap imitations.

The class had luncheon at one of the big cafeterias and then went through the plant of the Davis Brothers' bakery. They were given an opportunity to see the whole process of bread making, from the mixing stage to the removal from the oven, delicately browned and sweet smelling. The trip to the California Furniture company was the finale of a series of lessons on household furnishings.

P.-T. A. PLANS A SCHOOL PICNIC

The Parent-Teacher association of the Doran street school met in regular session yesterday afternoon at the school. The chief business of the meeting, at which the president, Mrs. Diederich, presided, was the making of plans for the school picnic to be held on Saturday, June 11, at Brookside park. A truck will be provided to take the children there and home again; many families will take their children in their own machines.

Mmes. E. E. Osgood and R. V. Edwards were hostesses of the day; they served refreshments of home-made cake and tea to the ladies.

DEVOTE AFTERNOON TO STUDY OF JAPAN

Mrs. A. K. Crawford of 321 North Cedar street, entertained the members of the Woman's Missionary society of the Central Christian church at her home yesterday afternoon. About 35 women were present, and the afternoon was devoted to a study of Japan. One of the enjoyable features of the meeting was a duet by Mrs. Mercer and Mrs. Zook. Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

JUDGE HAS SURE RHEUMATISM CURE

(By International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Kan., June 2.—"Judge, I have had the rheumatism for seven years and I have been taking a home-made cure for it," was the plea given by Mrs. Rose Lester, 42, when she appeared before Judge George West in police court, charged with a violation of the Volstead act.

Mrs. Lester's cellar revealed a barrel of wine and a barrel of raisin mash when City Detective Henry Smith made a raid.

The home-made remedy had a real "kick" and Mrs. Lester was given a $100 fine and a 30-day sentence in jail.

"The seven-year cure is about up; I hope you are well now," were the soothing remarks of Judge West before he passed sentence.

Mrs. Edward Bergstrom, who has made quite an extended visit with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Westrup, 927 North Louise street, will leave in a few days for her home in Lemoore, Calif. Mrs. Bergstrom's health has improved a great deal during her visit here.

Billy Fay, Orpheum head-liner, appears to great advantage in the part of John Brown and Mrs. Beulah Dunbar as Mrs. Fuller has a good chance to demonstrate her histrionic ability.

Altogether the cast is well balanced and will present a good performance.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS ARE NEEDED BY LOS ANGELES COUNTY

By JONATHAN S. DODGE
Chairman Board of Supervisors

The present jails of both Los Angeles county and city are entirely inadequate to house the prisoners, and also are much out of date. Both jails were constructed 25 years ago. The city jail, intended to house 125 prisoners, now has 298, and the county jail, intended to house 200 prisoners, has a population of 375. The city about ten years ago built an east side jail to care for 150 prisoners, and at times it has held as many as 499 prisoners. There is not a crime wave at hand, but the natural growth of the county and city has produced a natural and proportionate growth in the criminal class as well.

Municipal Farm

A splendid movement is on foot to establish a municipal farm, but this can only care for prisoners sentenced for minor offences and would not be a suitable place to detain those awaiting trial. As a temporary expedient the supervisors have established a camp under the spreading oaks of the Malibu ranch, where 27 prisoners are at work on the Malibu road. These prisoners are given every chance of rehabilitation, and the inducements are such as to make it a premium to be selected on honor as a worker in this camp.

County and City Buildings

Both the county and city departments are crowded to the limit for rooms to house courts and officials engaged in public duties and it is imperative that additional room must be provided. The city of Los Angeles is renting quarters at large expense and the county must do likewise, or else build to meet its growing needs.

Consolidation

Would it not be wise for all the criminal departments of both city and county to be housed under a single roof? The great advantages as well as economy of consolidating other departments of county and city, such as tax assessments and collections, testing of weights and measures, and notably the charities, leads one to look for improved service at lessened cost. The great city of Los Angeles, needing improved quarters for its jail, criminal courts, police department and receiving hospital is entirely unable to meet the situation, but as she pays 65 per cent of all county taxes, could she not with propriety look for assistance from county sources. The city could pay a fair rental to the county for the space occupied and the people who do business with these departments would be accommodated.

Hall of Justice

So why not build a beautiful building in the future civic center on ground now owned by the county that will be an ornament as well as a utility, and have something to show our visitors that will be commensurate with our boast of being the richest county in the world. Let's call it a "Hall of Justice" and house every activity connected with the apprehension, detention and prosecution of criminals within its spacious walls.

No Bond Issue

The county is not bonded now except for a small balance yet to become due on bonds issued in 1907 for our highway system. It has money on deposit in about every bank in the county, and besides this, has a million dollars invested in Liberty bonds, a half million in state highway bonds, besides a neat surplus in the treasury. It can well afford to construct this building out of its current revenue of the next two years, and instead of expending our tax money in salaries for "investigations, inspections and reports," we would have a solid and substantial building that we could hope to view with pride and use for beneficial purposes.

Our Civic Pride

We can boast of our size, climate, population and wealth, but certainly not of our public buildings. Let it not be said that tourists were directed to Los Angeles to view the wrecks and ruins of ancient buildings because they surpassed in these particulars the ruined castles of Europe.

UNEMPLOYMENT IS ON WANE IN FRANCE

PARIS, June 2.—Unemployment in France is not as serious as in many other European countries. There are at present about 180,000 unemployed and only 72,000 of these are receivins out-of-work pay. Reports received in Paris from all the important industrial districts show that industry is gradually recovering from the effects of the war. The cost of materials having now considerably decreased building is to be actively pushed along and particularly the building of living quarters so as to ease, if possible, the shortage of houses both in Paris and in the provinces. A resumption in the motor building industry is also reported as well as in the shoemaking business, where the retail prices of shoes show a slight decrease.

WEEK ENDS WITH MUSIC AND BANQUET

The closing of Music Week will be fittingly celebrated by the banquet and concert of the Glendale Music Club on the evening of Monday, June 6, at the First Methodist church.

The affair promises to be a brilliant one; musical celebrities from Los Angeles and vicinity will be guests of honor, and a fine program has been arranged, both for the banquet and for the concert which follows.

Members of the Music Club and all others desiring to attend will do well to telephone Mrs. Colin Cable, Glendale 442W, immediately, for the tickets are going fast. Anyone who wishes to go is privileged to attend. Reservations must be made not later than Friday.

The program for the banquet includes: Greetings by Dwight Stephenson, president of the board of city trustees; greetings, C. C. Cooper, president of the Chamber of Commerce; address, "Youth and Music," by Charles Wakefield Cadman, followed by a musical number, one of Cadman's compositions; address, "The Needs of American Music," by Vernon Spencer, followed by one of his musical compositions; a short address by Clarence Gustlin, president of the Santa Ana Musical Association of 1250 members; Mr. Gustlin's subject is "The Value of a Musical Association to the Community."

After the presentation of the new officers the company will adjourn to the church auditorium for the concert.

There is no admission to the concert, and every resident of Glendale is invited by the Glendale Music Club to enjoy it.

MANY MERCHANT SHIPS ARE IDLE

(By International News Service)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 2.—Swing with the tide in a sheltered and landlocked harbor, four hundred million dollars' worth of merchant ships ride idly at anchor in the James river.

These ships are vessels built by the United States shipping board during the war, and for which there is now no use.

Two hundred and fifty of the craft are built of wood and 185 are of iron and steel.

Capt. F. J. Walcott is custodian of this nautical graveyard, but insists that it is a storehouse and not a graveyard. The wooden ships are in first class shape and ready for action, Captain Walcott declares.

Machinery has been removed from most of the ships and sent to Norfolk, where it has been properly oiled and stowed away in government warehouses. Decks have been protected by liberal coats of paint and canvas and rigging have been likewise cared for.

The craft are anchored in units of seven each and dot the river for many miles.

Some shipping experts claim that because of limited tonnage the vessels cannot be operated profitably.

Swaying in the gentle swell of the river these vessels seem a wraith of the submarine warfare. Their future is undetermined, Congress may settle it.

AFFECTIONS WERE NOT ALIENATED

(By International News Service)

CLAREMONT, N. H., June 2.—Mrs. Dora E. S. Green, whose husband is suing Weslow G. Sobeluesky for alienation of her affections, has broken all precedent in such cases by admitting that she likes the defendant, but declares he did not steal her affections from Green, because she had none.

Mrs. Green charges that her husband married her to get a housekeeper and farm laborer, not a wife.

She also charges cruelty, exhibits a scar on her hand which she says was caused by a mirror he threw at her, and alleges he did not spend more than $3 on clothes for her in the years she has lived with him.

DEAD CHINAMAN WAS BIGAMIST

(By International News Service)

YAKIMA, Wash., June 2.—Ah Bong, Chinese merchant of this city, knew the ways of a woman, and although he had two wives, neither knew that the other existed. For he kept them far apart—one in America, the other in China.

Bong died here recently, leaving an estate of approximately $6000. A white wife in Yakima, Mary Bong, immediately applied for letters of administration, producing a marriage license dated September 10, 1914, secured in Colfax county, N. M. Before her claims could be verified three Chinese from Seattle appeared with a will which they claim was made by Bong, leaving all his property to a Celestial wife and son residing in China.

The white wife and the woman from the Orient are now engaged in a legal contest for the right to administer Bong's estate.

PERRY H. LILLY CLAIMED BY DEATH

Death claimed Perry H. Lilly, father of J. F. Lilly, 332 North Jackson street, at his home in Santa Ana on Wednesday morning, June 1.

Mr. Lilly was 79 years of age, and his death came as a result of the weakness brought about by his years. He has visited in Glendale in the home of his son a number of times since coming from Missouri to make his home in Santa Ana three years ago.

His wife and two children are left to mourn his loss. Besides his son, J. F. Lilly, there is a daughter, Mrs. Ethel L. Harrison, who lives in Trent, Missouri.

During most of his active years in business life Mr. Lilly was a merchant in Jamesport, Mo., retiring from business to come to California to spend his declining years.

Funeral services will be held in Santa Ana tomorrow.

DOG PROVES HIS LOVE FOR MASTER

(By International News Service)

EUGENE, Ore., June 2.—Proof that there is no greater love than that of a dog for his master was given by a Scotch collie which had to be lassoed before neighbors could remove the dead body of his master, Christian Wizenreid, who dropped dead on his farm near here.

When neighbors came upon the body of Wizenreid, a 93-year-old resident of Lane county, the dog refused to allow them to come close. After he had been subdued the faithful animal followed the hearse 12 miles into Eugene and entered the undertaking parlor, where it took considerable maneuvering to put him out.

CHANGING STYLES

L. W. Wallace, executive secretary of the American engineering council, speaking before a meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in Chicago recently, hurled a challenge to womankind and mankind for the thousands of dollars spent each year because of changing styles. Mr. Wallace is right in saying that huge losses result every year, or season, because the new hat, the new frock, the new pair of shoes or the new overcoat must be radically different in style. Or, rather, because styles have changed there must be a new hat or dress, even though the present one is by no means worn out or frayed.

The mere fact that humanity admits it is silly and unnecessary, this business of changing styles every season, it makes Mr. Wallace's comments all the more striking. The customers blame the fashion designers for "silly new creations," and the designers say the public demands them. There is also a lurking notion that the hat business and the shoe business and the dress business might not be so good if it were not for the new styles, and possibly the manufacturers might welcome new fashions. But no one will say, "I am to blame."

As a matter of fact, isn't it just human nature? Perhaps the ancient cave man used the same kind of a club year after year, but surely the savage found an added joy in his wild life by varying the size of animal teeth he wore about his neck and the unesthetic bushman sometimes wears a short stick and sometimes a long stick pierced through his cheeks. It has never been recorded that mankind is satisfied with things as they are. Whenever a tribe became fairly well satisfied with existing conditions along came a more energetic tribe and somewhat rudely took possession of the hunting and fishing grounds. There is nothing stationary about man, not even his ideas concerning morality, much less his ideas of happiness, sartorial beauty and what constitutes excellent food. Mr. Wallace may lament the waste of changing styles, as do many others, but to reform humanity is a task not welcomed by the average.

PUTTING IT ACROSS

It is predicted that the coming Dempsey-Carpentier fight for the world's championship will draw the greatest crowd in the annals of pugilism. Past fistic encounters have drawn thousands of spectators and poured thousands of dollars into the coffers of the promoters and participants. Nearly a half million dollars were taken in at the Willard-Dempsey fight at Toledo. That the Dempsey-Carpentier fight will bring more money is taken for granted.

It is not surprising that a great many people are lamenting this waste of money, the utter futility of giving two men a half million dollars for brutally fighting each other for a few minutes. What does it matter who wins? What good can come of it? How many starving children the world over might be fed and made happy by this enormous sum of money! Such thoughts are not unreasonable.

But, unnecessary as the coming fight may be, there is in it an immortal lesson for mankind. The man who can do something better than anyone else, no matter if it is fighting or building railroads, will find the world at his feet. There is in it the reward of achievement, the homage of society.

It has lately become a common plaint among employers that employes no longer take the same pride in doing their work better than their fellow employes. The clock has its disadvantages as well as its advantages, and quantity of wages replaces quality of performance. A cartwright, whose name appears on farm implements, though he has been dead these many years, first won fame in his community because he made better wagons than anyone else. The excellency of his wagons became known elsewhere, and before he died he was the head of the largest vehicle factory in the world. The farmers of America would have been without excellent wagons and he would have remained an unknown man if with his own hands he had not labored and succeeded in making a better wagon than the cartwright at the next four-corners. The art of doing something better than the other fellow needs reviving.

We hope Mr. Ford's imitation cow will be more successful than the imitation cowboys in the movies.

But speaking of movies, can America not set an educational standard which will at least compel everyone to have enough education to count change and read the sub-titles.

It may be that the movies cause as much meanness as the saloons did, but nobody shows up at the theater next morning begging for another reel.

Series of Articles on Patents, Inventions, Etc.

By WILLIAM C. CUTLER of Glendale, California

PATENTABLE SUBJECTS

Q.—Change of form. Is it ever patentable?

A.—Yes when it produces a new mode of operation. Winans conoidal coal car was decided to constitute invention. The improvement over prior types was manifest, and an infringer who duplicated the construction was enjoined.

Q.—Change in size. Is it ever patentable?

A.—Yes, Charles Goodyear discovered that combining from 6 to 20 per cent of sulphur with crude rubber produced solf vulcanized rubber. Nelson Goodyear discovered that increasing the amount of sulphur to 25 per cent and upward, produced hard rubber. Both inventors were granted patents for their inventions.

Q.—Change in material. Is it ever patentable?

A.—Yes John Young was granted a patent on a rubber covered roll for wringing machines on the ground that a roller impermeable to water as the prior rolls of cloth and felt were not—was a new property in machines of this character.

UNPATENTABLE SUBJECTS

There are thousands of inventors in America who are recorded as failures, but who have given much more to the good of mankind than the majority of men who have achieved high places and wealth.

The following array of things which are not patentable, at first sight may look rather discouraging to the novice who has the inventive "bee in his bonnet," and somewhat formidable to the manufacturer who is not acquainted with the subject, but when digested it will be realized that patentability should not be accorded to what is mentioned under the several questions.

Mere aggregation of things which does not involve invention, is perhaps one of the commonest errors made by inventors when inventing. They cannot seem to understand that combining old things, which do not coact (act with) each other and produce no new result, does not constitute invention.

The patent office will not consider mere quality of result. Many patent applications have been stubbornly fought by attorneys in their effort to secure patents on things that improved quality but were held to be "aggregation." A system of making coffee, possibly of better flavor, was rejected, after being fought, from the primary examiner through the board of examiners and up to the commissioner of patents, who held that "the three steps of preparing, storing and dispensing were mere aggregations of unrelated functions."

The failure to define invention leaves the determination of what constitutes it to the courts.

Q.—What are unpatentable things?

A.—(1) A mere idea or mental conception; (2) A principle; (3)A property of matter; (4) A result; (5) An aggregation of parts; (6) Duplication; (7) Transposition of parts; (8) Immoral object; (9) Adaptation; (10) Changes in form; (11) Substitution; (12) A mere change in size, proportion, material; (13) Systems of arrangements; and things which do not possess novelty and utility.

Inventions must come within the meanings of section 4886 of the revised statutes of the United States to be patentable, viz., "Any person who has invented or discovered any: (1) New and useful art, machine, manufacture or composition of matter, or (2) Any new and useful improvements thereof, (3) not known or used by others in this country before his invention or discovery thereof, and (4) Not patented or described in any publication in this or any foreign country, before his invention or discovery thereof, or more than two years prior to his application, and (5) Not in public use or on sale in this country for more than two years prior to his application; (6) Unless the same is proved to have been abandoned, may, upon payment of the fees required by law, and other due proceedings had, obtain a patent therefor."

Q.—An idea or "mental conception"—why is it not patentable?

A.—Because, in itself, it is something unaccomplished. A dreamer, who hase a mere idea, should not prevent some other person from perfecting a means of practical accomplishment.

Q.—A principle—why cannot it be patented?

A.—Because a principle is a fundamental truth, no one can claim an exclusive right to such. The fact that low fusing metals would flow by applying heat, followed by pressure, the court decided was the discovery of a "scientific principle" and a peculiar property of the metal and therefore not patentable.

Q.—A property of matter—why cannot it be patented?

A.—For the same reason that a principle cannot. An effort was made to cover broadly every known vegetable fiber for making incandescent lamp filaments. The court rules against its patentability.

Q.—A result—why cannot it be patented?

A.—Because it would prevent anyone else producing the result by some other means, which is legitimate invention."

STUDIO NEWS AND GOSSIP

It isn't an easy road. No roses strew its borders nor do we find the path wide and well paved. On the other hand it is sometimes thorny, always full of unexpected turns and invariably paved with hard work.

It seems to me sometimes that this is the motto of the motion picture player—from extra to star: "Hard work."

Of course no one ever gets far in any profession without hard work. But once in a while one is, as you might say, tossed into an easy berth. There is no such thing in the pictures. It isn't a matter of pleasing a certain director or producer or even yourself. It means pleasing the public.

If the public isn't pleased—there's an end of the matter. And you can never hope to reach any heights in your profession or providing entertainment for the people unless the people are entertained.

So you see, we have another motto: "Please the Public."

Now so much depends on individual quality, characteristics, what is celled personality.

I wish I could define that last word, but I can not. No one else has been able to do so satisfactorily.

"What is personality?" you ask someone. They answer—

"Personality? Why—of course—yes, personality—per—" They they stop. "Say, what do you want to know for?" Like a vaudeville joke, isn't it?

And the odd thing is that this very elusive characteristic is the thing that makes or mars a performer. Everythings else is subordinate. Maybe it is ability. But even that doesn't always win. Some people with real talent never succeed. Why? They lack personality. Maybe it is magnetism. The quality of attracting other people to you. That's a natural gift largely and can be improved upon. One thing is sure—you get what you give out. A smile wins a smile—a frown wins a frown. Maybe then, personality consists in being able to meet people with the appearance of being confident of their approval. There we've got to stop and beware of self-satisfaction, however. That is worse than lack of self-confidence.

Well—talking of the way to stardom. I had my problems to meet. At first I was doing comedy roles. I didn't dislike comedy but I never felt it was my forte. I knew I could do more substantial things. And then my opportunity came with Mr. Cecil B. de Mille—one of the great directors the world has ever known or ever will know, and also one of the greatest artists. My appearances in his pictures were a series of real lessons in the art of acting. I felt at last that I was learning and developing every day.

After playing leading roles for him for two or three years, I became a star in my own right.

Perhaps I was more fortunate than some. But let me tell you I worked hard. I never hesitated to do what was required of me—and there's another motto:

"Do what you're told by the director."

Of course, that doesn't mean that you must be a parrot and act exactly as he suggests. Mr. de Mille always wished me to make use of my own individuality. His was mereely the guiding hand—his the voice that directed me in the right direction. The rest was in the parlance of the day "up to me."

Everyone who has talent, other requisites to success, can ultimately succeed on the screen, I verily believe. But let me emphasize in advance that it is always hard work, sticking to it, persistence and continual study that brings results. There is no royol road to success along the Milky Way!

May Allison played the title role in "Quaker Girl" and was with William H. Crane in "David Harum" just before she succumbed to the lure of the cinema bug.

Richard Barthlemess, former Griffith star, is to be featured by Inspiration Pictures, Inc., which has been capitalized at $1,500,000.

Wanda Hawley's current Realart picture, "The Clinging Vine," is nearing completion. Walter Hiers is playing opposite the star.

Marjorie Daw has been released by Marshall Neilan by mutual arrangement. He will make two more pictures this year. In one Colleen Moore will be featured.

Betty Compson is nearing the completion of the filming of "At the End of the World." The dramatic denouement of the picture occurs in a lighthouse.

As a member of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale for the past three years, I hereby announce my candidacy for reelection to office as a member of the City Council under the new city charter. ANNOUNCEMENT

Editor Glendale Press—Responding to the urgent solicitation of many friends, I have very reluctantly agreed to allow my name to go before the voters of Glendale as a candidate for Councilman at the coming election. I am absolutely unpledged to anybody or anything except to conscience. If my daily walk before my fellow-citizens of this community for thirteen years is not good evidence of what may be expected of me should I be elected to office, any promises which I might make now would be of little value.

Judge me by that and vote accordingly and I shall be perfectly satisfied with the verdict.

CHILDREN'S BALLROOM DANCING

Mrs. Nanno Woods has been asked to form a class in ballroom dancing for boys and girls as soon as school closes. Class will be held every Tuesday and Friday mornings, 9 to 10 o'clock, for five weeks, beginning Tuesday, June 21. Course, $6.50. 122 West Milford St., phone Glendale 394. Class will be limited to 12 pupils.

AN OVERSIGHT

In expressing our appreciation in a former issue to all who helped in the Near East Relief "Bundle Day" campaign, May 25th, the name of the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Rhoades, was unintentionally omitted. His untiring zeal and interest to do his part in getting the material to the warehouse from the various "Bundle Stations" was no small job. To him, therefore, we owe a debt of gratitude and all others in the least degree, who helped to make the whole campaign such a glorious success.

R. WARREN MOTTERN,
Director.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES
(By International News Service)

With Ryan and Benton in form the Giants annexed a duplex victory from the Philadelphias. Kelly got his ninth home run.

Eppa Rixey was chased to the showers in the sixth by the Cardinals who went on a rampage at Cincinnati.

The Pirates made it three out of four from the Cubs by batting Martin freely.

Homers by Pratt and Jones in the first game gave Boston an edge on Philadelphia by Dykes' homer in the second game, enabled the A's to get even.

Washington beat Carl Mays when he weakened in the ninth which he entered holding a four-run lead the Yanks had piled up for him.

OTIS SKINNER IN "KISMET"

Otis Skinner was recounting some of his experiences in "Kismet," not the motion-picture version, but the stage play, in which he made such a big success all over the country a few years ago. "I remember when we played Cincinnati," he said, "that we had trouble with our harem pool. We always tested it before the show, and on this night instead of the slightly heated water pouring through the pipes, it was jets of steam. We sent out and got all the ice we could procure, but even so, when the harem girls plunged in they turned red as beets. A little later I was called on to throw the grand vizier, Hamilton Revelle, into the pool. We had forgotten to tell him about the temperature, and when he struck the water he let out a yell that we thought would break up the show. But it didn't, and you can imagine our surprise next day when the critics complimented Revelle on the spontaneous outcry he made when I threw him to his death."—San Francisco Argonaut.

'CHURCH NIGHT' AT CENTRAL CHRISTIAN

Rev. C. A. Cole announced last Sunday that there would probably be only two more "church night" suppers given in the Christian church bungalow, as all such proceedings would have to be abandoned when active work on the new church building was commenced. Consequently, there was a large attendance last night, fully 100 people being served. After the supper, a prayer service and Bible study was held for an hour and a half, then there was choir practice, making a very full evening.

THEATERS

Glendale Theater

"Reputation," the Universal superfeature starring Priscilla Dean, is shown today at the Glendale Theatre for the last time.

This story, based upon Edwina Levin's novel, "False Colors," gives Miss Dean a capital opportunity to show her wonderful ability as an actress, for in this photoplay she plays two parts, portraying characters diametrically opposed to each other.

In one she is a wretched, dissipated woman, a favorite on the European stage. In the other she is a pure young girl, the daughter of the dissolute actress, whom she has never known.

The story has a climax of great dramatic power; many theatergoers consider this story one of the most dramatic ever seen on the silver screen.

COOKED FOOD SALE IS DECIDED SUCCESS

The cooked food sale held westerday by the ladies of the auxiliary of the American Legion was a decided success. All of the articles offered found ready sale and there was a demand for more. The sale netted the ladies about $30.

Mrs. G. H. Rowe and Mrs. E. W. W. Hayward had charge of the successful affair.

REIGN OF TERROR

trict as soon as the wreckage can be cleared up, to serve as homes for the negroes now herded in convention hall or other buildings and quartered at the baseball park.

More than 3000 of these negroes taken prisoner yesterday were still being fed by relief agencies headed by the Red Cross today. During the night and today their numbers continued to increase as little bands of fugitives, learning all danger was past, began to straggle back into the city. The meals are served at the fair grounds. Information was received from a number of towns near this city today that bands of negroes from a score up to 200 in size, who had fled from the city during the hours of terror were being cared for.

These were started back for Tulsa this morning under assurances there would be no molestation.

Dick Rowland, the negro youth whose arrest was the cause of the outbreak, was not to be arraigned today, it was stated by police officials. Rowland, during the rioting, was spirited away to safety and his place of confinement was still secret today.

A comparatively insignificant insult caused all the bloodshed, it has developed. Rowland does not face any charge, but was being held by city police for investigation on complaint of Mrs. Sarah Paige, a white elevator operator, who said Rowland attempted to attack her.

Today Adjutant General Barrett advised the relief agencies they should prepare to care for the thousands of destitute for at least ten days to come.

It was still impossible to gain an accurate estimate of the dead this morning. Adjutant General Barrett stated that the best figures he could obtain were 100 dead. Ten white persons are dead and the total of negroes dead is about 90, according to the military check up.

Only a few negroes appeared on the streets today. They were persons who had been vouched for and wore arm bands issued by the authorities permitting them to pass to military sentries. During the morning guardsmen in small squads were sent into the devastated district to search among the blackened ruins for bodies. A few negroes were also permitted in the district to search for missing relatives or for household valuable left behind during the flight.

Girl's Body Found

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 2.—An effort was to be made today by the Tippecanoe county grand jury to solve the death of Margaret Van Camp, pretty 20-year-old girl of Battleground, whose body was found floating in the Tippecanoe river May 16. The girl had taken an automobile ride the night before with her lover, Ray Runkle, a farmer, aged 20. The girl was not missed until the next morning, when a note from Margaret was found lying on the table. It read:

"Ray is gone; and I am going to leave, too; but don't blame Ray. Telephone Ray Wednesday morning."

Runkle came to the Van Camp house and aided others in searching for Margaret. He appeared depressed by the girl's strange disappearance.

WEDDINGS

Turner—Lamoreaux

The marriage of Muriel L. Turner of Ocean Park, and George Lamoreaux of 200 West Windsor road, this city, at the Mission Inn, Riverside, on the evening of May 27 was the culmination of a romance begun in their high school days in Glendale.

The wedding took place in the presence of the families and intimate friends of the young couple, and was a pretty affair. The bride was attired in a tailored suit of dark blue tricotine heavily braided, with hat and shoes of gray. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her bridesmaid was her sister, Miss Alma Turner, whose gown was of blue taffeta and her corsage bouquet was of Ophelia roses.

The simple but impressive wedding ceremony was read at 7:30. After the wedding supper, Mr. and Mrs. Lamoreaux left for a several weeks' auto trip to Yosemite, San Francisco and Sacramento.

Mrs. Lamoreaux is well-known in Glendale, having lived here for 12 years. Many pre-nuptial affairs have been given in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Lamoreaux will be at home to their friends at Ocean Park on their return from their wedding journey.

Denslow—Mills

Last night the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar E. Denslow at 1016 North Central avenue was the scene of a pretty home wedding when their daughter, Miss Gladys Denslow, became the bride of W. Mervyn Mills, auditor of the Glendale-Montrose railroad and secretary of the La Crescenta Water company. Rev. Julius Soper of Casa Verdugo officiated, and benignantly blessed the young people.

PICNICS AND LUNCHEONS FOR VISITORS

Last Sunday afternoon the convention committee met in the Christian church with Howard Brown, presiding. Rev. Edmonds led the devotionals and brought out the thought that with all the work of organization and the excitement of the number of visitors the supreme effort of the convention must not be for one minute forgotten by the leaders, the work of bringing young people to the Master and to service for Him. Rev. Cole and Rev. Calderwood were also present, speaking encouraging words.

The recreation for the visitors was the main topic under consideration and it certainly looks as if it would be the delegates own fault if they don't enjoy themselves. Mr. Valentine, state president, said that requests for seven special breakfasts and banquets had come in and that Mrs. Yarick and her committee were planning on these. Mrs. Yarick knows she has a big task, but several of her helpers were present and assured her of the hearty cooperation of the various ladies' organizations of Glendale.

Mr. Baker, of the high school faculty was present. He has been appointed chairman of recreation to arrange for two evening bonfires on the high school campus, the junior and intermediate picnics and an alumni ball game the afternoon of Monday, June 27.

There will also be a parade of all delegates with banners and perhaps floats and the Glendale committees in uniform, Tuesday evening. This is expected to be the finest ever planned by a Christian Endeavor convention and will be of interest to all in Glendale.

Mr. Watson, city manager, a member of the committee, reported that he had interviewed the F. P. Newport Company in regard to using the Verdugo park for the Monday picnics. Always in summer, permission is refused and the city does not encourage the use either on account of the water supply, but it seemed a shame to take the picnics out of Glendale, and so permission was granted. Mr. Watson's help was much appreciated and a vote of thanks sent the F. P. Newport Company.

Flowers and greenery provided the festive setting for the important event and after the young couple had received the congratulations of their assembled relatives, wedding refreshments were served. It was also the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Baldridge, who were married a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills left the same night for a two weeks' outing in the Yosemite valley, and on their return will be at home to their friends at 427 North Maryland avenue.
